

ABSTRACT

Provided are a polyaniline-containing composition wherein a polyaniline is dispersed uniformly in water or a solvent that gives a coated film higher in conductivity and superior in strength and flexibility when the composition is coated and a production method thereof characterized by dissolving or dispersing polyaniline in a monomer mixture including a vinylpyrrolidone as an essential component and then polymerizing the monomer mixture.